

"A session with the Noble Laureate"

The pioneer of clinical research in oncology, Prof Harald Zur Hausen has been the recipient of noble award (2008) in medicine for the discovery of "Human papilloma virus" causing Cervical Cancer. In fact, the onogenic human papilloma virus (HPV) has been found as the root cause of cervical cancer among women.

Cancer Foundation of India organized a one-day symposium on 'Cervical Cancer Control in India' and none other than Dr. Zur Hausen had been invited to deliver the keynote address.

Students of Biotechnology department of IILM – AHL, Greater Noida has attended the symposium at Kolkata and got a lifetime opportunity to interact with the Noble Laureate